English Version of the 2002 GED Series:

New tests were introduced in 2002. You must successfully write all five of the 2002 tests to get a certificate. Scores from the 1988 series tests will not be counted. (Please see information booklet for details on 2002 Series GED tests.)

Policy on Rewriting:

It is strongly recommended that a candidate wait 3 months before rewriting. This allows time for extra preparation.

GED Testing Services (GEDTS) regulations stipulate that a candidate may be tested a maximum of three times in one year (January to December) and that the third testing CANNOT be administered within three months of the first testing.

Special Accommodations:

If you have specific learning and/or physical disabilities, you may be granted special accommodations to write the GED tests. Contact the GED office to obtain the necessary form to be submitted with this application. Allow at least four weeks for the request to be processed. Testings with special accommodations will be scheduled several times during the testing year.

Test Results:

A transcript of test results will be mailed to you approximately four to six weeks after writing.

Due to confidentiality reasons, test results CANNOT be given over the phone.

Policy on Rescheduling or Cancelling:

To reschedule your test, you must contact the GED office (see above) at least ONE WEEK before the testing date. If you do not, you will have to re-register and pay a new application fee. Requests to reschedule with less than one week's notice will be considered on an individual basis. You may reschedule a maximum of 3 times.
