Departmental Overview

The Department of Education was established under the Executive Council Act. It is a category one government entity under the Transparency and Accountability Act and is responsible for achieving outcomes with respect to the education of all citizens from pre-school to post-secondary and beyond. The programs and services offered are provided through three branches:

Primary, Elementary & Secondary Branch

This branch includes responsibility for school services; program development; student support services; evaluation and research; distance learning and innovation; and early childhood learning.

Advanced Studies Branch

This branch includes responsibility for post-secondary education, including institutional and industrial education; student financial assistance; skills development; and adult learning and literacy.

Corporate Services Branch

This branch includes responsibility for strategic planning and annual reporting; budget preparation and monitoring; financial services; school busing; international education; policy development and accountability; school construction; teacher payroll services; and federal-provincial agreements.

On April 1, 2008, the Department of Education employed 261 individuals in its three branches.

Branch	Female	Male	Total
Primary, Elementary & Secondary ¹	57	37	94
Advanced Studies	72	33	105
Corporate Services ²	45	17	62
Total	174	87	261

¹ CDLI also has eight female and 23 male teachers instructing students which are not included in this number.

² These numbers include parliamentary assistants, communications staff and ministerial suite staff.

The main offices of the Department of Education are located in the West Block of Confederation Building and the Division of Student Financial Services is located at Memorial University in St. John's.

In total there are 253 staff in St. John's. Regional offices, delivering provincial apprenticeship programs and services to private colleges, are located in Corner Brook with two staff, Grand Falls-Windsor with four staff and Happy Valley-Goose Bay with two staff. In 2008, a fourth regional office will be opened.

This new office will be located in Clarenville. The Centre for Distance Learning and Innovation has offices at Memorial University's St. John's campus and in Gander.

In 2007-08, the Department of Education budget surpassed $1 billion for the first time in the province's history. Budget 2008 has again built upon the positive initiatives of the past three years with an additional net amount in education of $70 million. This brings the total budget for 2008-09 to $1.128 billion.

The department is involved in horizontal initiatives and contributes to the Poverty Reduction Strategy, the Innovation Strategy, the Violence Prevention Initiative, the Immigration Strategy, the Provincial Development Plan, the Infrastructure Strategy and the Northern Strategic Plan.

Sir Wilfred Grenfell College

In April 2007, the provincial government released an independent report which recommended Sir Wilfred Grenfell College be granted greater autonomy, while remaining within one Memorial University system. The system will be presided over by one Board of Regents, with each university having its own senate, budget and executive. This will enable the college to increase its contribution to the economic and cultural development of the west coast, while increasing enrolment and offering more programming. Budget 2008 allocated $500,000 to increase the institution's autonomy.

White Paper on Public Post-Secondary Education

Government's 2007 election platform committed to continuing initiatives contained in government's comprehensive White Paper on Public Post-Secondary Education, released in 2005. Continued tuition freezes at Memorial University and College of the North Atlantic will ensure that post-secondary education remains affordable. Furthermore, by placing much of the funding committed in the White Paper in the base budgets of College of the North Atlantic and Memorial University, government has ensured these institutions have sufficient operating funds to continue to offer programs to effectively prepare students to build a self-reliant Newfoundland and Labrador.

ISSP / Pathways and Teacher Allocation Commissions

The department is currently working with the province's school boards to implement many of the recommendations of the ISSP/Pathways Commission Report, Focusing on Students, and the Teacher Allocation Commission Report, Education and Our Future: A Roadmap to Innovation and Excellence. The revised ISSP/Pathways model will create a better system for the delivery of special education programming that addresses administrative workload, and allows professionals working in that field to better serve special needs students and their families. As well, a new approach to allocating teaching resources will place the needs of students, teachers and individual schools first in determining how teaching resources are distributed across the K-12 education system.

Skills Task Force

All the Skills to Succeed, the report of the Newfoundland and Labrador Skills Task Force, provided an action plan to address gaps in the skilled trades labour force and to meet the needs of current and future large-scale development projects. Budgets 2007 and 2008 have begun to address many of the recommendations of the report which serves as a guiding document for the strategic goals of the Department of Education in this area.

The Minister of Education is responsible for all aspects of K-12 and post-secondary education in Newfoundland and Labrador.

The mandate for the Minister of Education is primarily established under:

- The Departmental Notice under the Executive Council Act;
- Sections 92.(1) and 117 of the Schools Act, 1997;
- Sections 6 and 7 of the Teacher Training Act;

- Section 11 of the Apprenticeship and Certification Act; and,
- Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 11, 14, 15 and 19 of the Student Financial Assistance Act.

Primary Clients and Vision

Primary Clients

The Department of Education has four groups of primary clients. They are students, teachers, school boards and post-secondary educational institutions.

Vision

Education levels are a key indicator of individual economic success which fuel the province's achievements in both national and international environments, and have been vital to the remarkable turnaround in the province of Newfoundland and Labrador over the past few years. Hence:

The vision of the Department of Education is citizens with the values, knowledge and skills necessary to be productive and contributing members of society.

The mission statement identifies the priority focus area of the minister over the two planning cycles ending in 2011. The current mission was developed in 2006 and represents the key longer-term result that the minister and the department have been working towards. It was originally developed in light of the minister's strategic directions communicated on December 8, 2005 which included Quality and Accessibility of Educational Programs; Innovative and High-Performing Educational Delivery Systems; Public Post-Secondary Education; Information Resources; and Financial Support for Learning. The complete list with associated components can be found in the department's 2006-08 Strategic Plan. The minister issued a second set of strategic directions on March 19, 2008 which are listed in Appendix A. They include directives addressing Primary, Elementary and Post-Secondary Education; Post-Secondary Education; and, Skilled Trades. A review of the associated components will indicate a consistent and progressive approach to addressing the mission statement over the course of the two planning cycles while addressing additional issues with new funds from the past three fiscal years. The statement also identifies the measures and indicators that will continue to assist both the department and public in monitoring and evaluating success.

In keeping with the vision of education for Newfoundland and Labrador, including our economic success as a province, the Department of Education is committed to providing an education system which is:

- Of high quality - Newfoundland and Labrador students are offered every advantage in what is now a global labour market;
- Safe - teachers and students are provided with learning environments that are free of health and life-safety challenges. Furthermore, all citizens deserve an environment free of harassment and intimidation; and,
- Affordable - in order to ensure access for all Newfoundlanders and Labradorians, public education in this province must remain affordable.

In consideration of government's strategic directions and the mandate and financial resources of the department, the following areas have been identified as the key priorities of the minister for the next three years. The goals identified for each issue reflect the results expected in the three-year time frame, while the objectives provide an annual focus. Measures and indicators are provided for both the goal and the first year's objective to assist both the department and the public in monitoring and evaluating success.

The three issues identified below are the focus for the next three years. The department is intent on ensuring each student has the opportunity to benefit, to the best of their ability, from the province's education system. Appropriate indicators will include the application of both gender-based and regional-specific analysis.

Issue One: Increased Access to Education Resources

The Department of Education recognizes that an educated population is the most desirable asset upon which to build the future of our province. Through advances made in travel and communications our citizens can avail of opportunities that exist not just provincially, but nationally and internationally. To encourage our students to excel and subsequently drive our future, the Department of Education will ensure that greater access to education resources is available.

Issue Three: Enhanced Opportunities

Large scale projects in the oil and gas industry, mining and construction sectors have been a driving force behind our province's economic turnaround in recent years. The demand for highly skilled tradespeople in the global marketplace has never been greater, and Newfoundlanders and Labradorians are eager to fill these voids. By investing in programs and facilities that promote the skilled trades, the Department of Education will enhance opportunities for skilled tradespeople who are ready to work with the latest technologies available. Specific efforts must be made to encourage females and other under-represented groups to participate in skilled trades as well. Meanwhile, our aging population has placed its own unique demands on the workforce. In order to address these concerns and ensure a sustainable workforce, the Department of Education will invest in post-secondary initiatives aimed at providing citizens with the necessary education opportunities they require to make valuable contributions to society.

Goal Three: By March 31, 2011, the Department of Education will have enhanced opportunities for Newfoundlanders and Labradorians to obtain the skills and knowledge to participate in society.

 3. By March 31, 2011, the Department of Education will have enhanced opportunities for Newfoundlanders and Labradorians to participate in society.

It is the intention of the Department of Education that upon conclusion of the three year period covered by this Strategic Plan, fiscal years 2008-09 through 2010-11, the education system in Newfoundland and Labrador will have experienced significant benefit from these strategic investments.

The majority of front-line services to the province's students are delivered through the five school boards and two public post-secondary institutions. As demonstrated throughout this plan, the Department of Education is intent on providing the best possible resources to the education system. This will ensure our vision is realized and this province's citizens are productive and contributing members of society who possess the values, knowledge and skills necessary to thrive in the global labour market.

The department cannot achieve this alone, and is committed to the development of strong working relationships with all its education partners in the province.

The five school boards, Memorial University, College of the North Atlantic, the Provincial Information and Library Resources Board, the Student Loan Corporation of Newfoundland and Labrador, and all other entities reporting to the minister will prepare multi-year performance based plans to satisfy their requirements under the Transparency and Accountability Act. These plans will provide the public with detailed information regarding each entity's important contribution to the province.

Outcomes associated with yearly measures and associated indicators under the goals in the strategic issues section of this Strategic Plan will be reported in the Department of Education's Annual Report published each fall.

Copies of this document, as well as other departmental publications, are available on the Department of Education website located at: <http://www.gov.nl.ca/edu>.

Overview

In accordance with section 14(1) of The Teacher Training Act, the Minister of Education may convene a board of appeals.

A board of appeals appointed by the Minister of Education consists of:

- one member nominated by the Newfoundland and Labrador Teachers' Association;
- two members nominated by the Teachers' Certification Committee;

Members of a board of appeals are appointed on an ad-hoc basis. The decision of a majority of the members of a board of appeals is the decision of the board. The finding or decision of the board is final and binding on the parties to the appeal.

Mandate

Sections 14 and 15 of the act provide a board of appeals with its mandate as follows:

The board may hear an appeal:

- where a teacher remains aggrieved by a decision of the registrar of teachers following a re-examination of an application; or,

- communicate in writing its finding or decision to the teacher affected and the committee.

Business Issues

A Teacher Certification Board of Appeals is only appointed and convened by the Minister of Education when required on an ad hoc basis. However, if convened, a board will carry out its duties as per its mandate and report upon its annual activities in accordance with the Transparency and Accountability Act.

Overview

The Council on Higher Education promotes collaboration in the public post-secondary education system by providing recommendations to Memorial University, College of the North Atlantic and the Department of Education on shared program areas.

Establishment of Council

The council was originally established in 1992 and has a fiscal year of September 1 to August 31. In 2005, government released Foundations for Success: White Paper on Public Post-Secondary Education. This policy document was commissioned as part of government's continued commitment to provide affordable and accessible post-secondary education opportunities. In light of the recommendations put forth in the White Paper, a reconfigured council was recognized in legislation through the Council on Higher Education Act. This reconfiguration sought to enhance the governance of the province's public post-secondary education system through three joint appointments to the university and college boards, with the jointly appointed board members serving as a link to the council.

Membership

As specified in the act, the council is to consist of a maximum of 11 board members. Membership on the Council of Higher Education is outlined in the table below. This membership consists of 50% males and 50% females. The council is also supported by an employee of the Department of Education who serves as secretary to the council, and functions as a liaison on behalf of the council and its members.

The Council on Higher Education is currently inactive pending revision of its membership to incorporate the new role Sir Wilfred Grenfell College will play with its greater autonomy. However, once activated, it will consider the strategic directions of government, and identify and develop business issues which will guide its work in accordance with its legislated mandate.

Appendix A

Strategic Directions

Strategic directions are the articulation of desired physical, social or economic outcomes and normally require action by more than one government entity. These directions are generally communicated by government through platform documents, throne and budget speeches, policy documents and other communiqués. The Transparency and Accountability Act requires departments and public bodies to take into account these strategic directions in the preparation of their performance-based plans. This action will facilitate the integration of planning practices across government and will ensure that all entities are moving forward on key commitments.

The directions related to the Minister of Education, who is also Minister Responsible for the Status of Women, are provided in the following pages. Each strategic direction is comprised of a number of components or focus areas. These focus areas will be addressed through the various planning processes of the department and the 17 entities which comprise the provincial education system. In addition, these directives have been communicated to the two entities for which the minister is responsible as Minister Responsible for the Status of Women. As indicated in the table below, some have been addressed in this Strategic Plan while others will be addressed by other entities reporting to the minister.

The governing bodies of each entity reporting to the minister will also review the components of each strategic direction and implement those that are appropriate for their particular entity. Refer to Appendix B for a complete list of entities reporting to the minister.
